5:25 p. m. Lady Maud sighted over horizon. Gwendolyn abeam. Our boat in calm.

5:40 p. m. set all topsails. Lady Maud coming about on starboard tack opposite Oahala, far out.

Nearly ready to launch boat and go over to Gwendolyn when breeze started up. Headed for Hilo again. Yes!

6:10 p. m. tried twice to come about. No steerage. Jibed. Gwendolyn follows every move.

WOULD TAKE TOW.

6:35 p. m. absolute calm. Would have taken a tow to port had it offered.

GET A BREEZE.

6:55 p. m. good breeze comes from sea, contrary to weather experts. Going along in good shape for Hilo. Long tack.

10:50 p. m. off whistling buoy. Thought Gwendolyn had beaten us but were happily disappointed.

The conclusion of the experts aboard is this: This race was lost by the long tack on the wind out from Molokai channel. The Hawaii is a steamboat in a heavy wind and sea. In light winds she is stock still.

The crew had a fine trip.

The visiting yachts are the guests of the citizens of Hilo on a trip to the volcano today. On their return a luncheon by the business men will be given in their honor.

Commodore Wilder will take the Hawaii back and has a bet that he will make it in twenty-four hours.

MUCH WEeping LAST NIGHT AT POLICE STATION

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)

There were plenty of tears around the police station last night, big, scalding drops that lit with splashes on the concrete floor of the receiving station.

These were the result of the order issued that all small boys and girls caught on the streets after dark without someone along to look after them were to be arrested and taken to the station, by way of a lesson. All during the evening there were big policemen marching in with prisoners of all nationalities, by ones and by twos, while one cop managed to bring in a trio in one trip. Sometimes the patrol wagon was sent out and then the terror of the young prisoners was very real indeed. Usually the boys, for there were no girls brought in, were reduced to tears before the station and its grim cells were reached, and the more stolid ones wilted when the big doors clanged and the idea was given them that down below in the dark they would have to pass the night. None of the children were held, but all were made to realize that the streets were poor places for them to be alone at night.

GARDEN ISLAND EXPECTS GRAPE.

Says the editorial column of the Kauai local paper: "Sheriff Ianaka seems to have been surprised to find that some of his subordinates have been protecting gamblers for a consideration in spite of his strict orders to the contrary. It is to be hoped that the shock of it had no serious effect on his health and equanimity, because an occasional investigation is sure to discover some such case of disobedience every time."

Commercial News

By Charles L. Rhodes.

The history of the Stock Exchange for the week has been a quiet one with a fair volume of business. Two sales of considerable magnitude marked Wednesday's market. A block of 1025 shares of Oahu changed hands at $39.25, involving $20,812.50, and a block of 250 shares of Pioneer changed hands at $145, involving $36,250.

Of course, there was a good deal of street speculation as to who the buyers were, and seemingly the street is pretty well satisfied that it has made the right guess.

The Stock Exchange transactions for the week were as follows:

Monday—30 Haw. Sugar Co., 35.50; 10 O. R. & L. Co., 101; $1000 O. R. & L. Co., 101; 5 O. R. & L. Co., 101; 50 Haw. Pineapple Co., 24.50; 531 Olan, 4.25; 195 Oahu Sugar Co., 29.25; 50 Onomea, 38; 75 Honokaa, 13.50.

Tuesday—25 Haw. C. & S. Co., 96; 170 Ewa, 28.

Wednesday—15 Haw. C. & S. Co., 96; 1025 Oahu Sugar Co., 29.25; 250 Pioneer, 145; 10 Ewa, 28; 130 Honokaa, 12.625.

Thursday—8 Pioneer, 145; 20 Oolaka, 9.50; 50 Onomea, 38; 60 Oahu, 29.25; 17 Pioneer, 145; 15 Ewa, 28.

Friday—10 Ewa, 28; 50 McBryde, 3.625.

Saturday—150 Hon. B. & M., 18; 10 O. R. & L. Co., 101; $1000 O. R. & L. Co., 101.

The Stock Exchange transactions for the month of July have been: 1633 Ewa, 27.50 to 28; 8 Haw. Agr. Co., 185; 741 Haw. Com. & Sugar Co., 95 to 96; 1425 Haw. Sugar Co., 35 to 35.50; 1330 Honokaa, 11.50 to 13.50; 180 McBryde, 4; 4890 Oahu, 28.50 to 29.50; 295 Onomea, 38 to 38; 135 Oolaka, 8 to 9.50; 756 Olan, 3.50 to 4.25; 25 Pepeekeo, 145 to 150; 282 Pioneer, 145; 421 Waialua, 82 to 85; 65 O. R. & L. Co., 101; 30 Hon. B. & M. Co., 20; 105 Haw. Pineapple Co., 24.50; $500 Haiku 68, 100.25; $2000 O. R. & L. Co. 68, 101; $1000 Olan 68, 92; $3000 Pacific 68, 100; $10,500 Waialua 58, 95 to 97; $2000 Honokaa 68, 100.

The dividends announced on the Stock Exchange are:

July 31, 1908.—C. Brewer & Co., 2 per cent.; Ewa, 1 per cent.; Waimanalo, 2½ per cent.; Haw. Electric, ¼ per cent.; Olowalu, 1 per cent.; Hon. B. & M. Co., ½ per cent.; L. I. S. N. Co., ¼ per cent.; Kaluku, 1 per cent.; Haw. Agr. Co., 1 per cent.; Haw. Pineapple Co., 1 per cent.

August 1, 1908.—Haiku, 1½ per cent.; Pain, 1½ per cent.; Pioneer, 2 per cent.

The price of raw sugar has gone up a little during the week, but a new quotation for beets was received yesterday, ten shillings sixpence, a parity of 4.21c for raws, though the quotation remains at 4.25c. A fall in the raw sugar quotation, therefore, is not to be wholly unexpected.

It is very clear that the price of sugar is not as firm and as strong as it was, expected it would be, and as the statistical position seems to warrant. A paragraph in Smith & Schipper's sugar letter of July 17 is interesting in this connection. If what is stated there as a report should prove to be well founded, it is of the highest interest to the Hawaiian planting interests.

The paragraph is as follows: "Cuba—There is no news of special interest from the island, with no pressure to sell on the part of the few remaining holders of sugar in first hands. It is said that the American Sugar Refining Company has right along been purchasing sugar in Cuba at higher prices than are being paid in New York, with a view to accumulating their supplies without stimulating the market, and, if so, unsold stocks in Cuba must be very limited."

BOND REDEMPTION.

The directors of Haiku at their meeting yesterday decided to call in for redemption $75,000 of the $300,000 of bonds of the corporation outstanding October 1. The directors of Pain decided to call in $112,500 of the $450,000 of bonds of that plantation, outstanding October 1. The bonds to be called in will be drawn by lot on Monday.

On Monday the directors of Hawaiian Sugar Company will consider the amount of bonds to be called in for redemption by that corporation. The amount will not be less than $150,000, and may be $200,000.

KAIMUKI LOTS SOLD.

An auction sale of eight Kaimuki lots a block from the street car line, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, was held by Morgan yesterday. Auctioneer Steven secured an average price of $200 a lot. The lowest price received was $135, and the highest $247.50. The lots each contain 15,000 square feet. They were sold for Y. Anin.

THE KAPAA LANDS.

Advertisements are being prepared for offering for sale the leases of the Kapaa and the Anahola lands on the island of Kapaa, until lately under lease to the Maize Sugar Company. The lands to be offered for lease are the cane lands and other lands as high up as the cane lands extend, the lands above these being about to be opened for homesteads. The rice lands will also be leased separately and the town lots will be sold.

There are about 1200 acres of sugar lands in the Kapaa tract. It is so located that the cane grown on it could be hauled to Hanalei mill as well as to Maize Sugar Company mill. In addition the land is held to be highly suitable for pineapples, and application for it for pineapple lands has been made to the government. As pineapple land, it is held that there is opportunity here for some interest to engage in the pineapple growing on a large scale. The upset price for the lease will be the appraised annual rental set by the appraisers who viewed the property about a year ago. The lease will be for nine years. This will give opportunity for three crops of plant cane, to be followed by two ratoon crops, if the land is leased for cane.

The Anahola lands will be offered for a term of fifteen years. If no offer at the upset rental is received, the land will be held until some other plan for its use for the benefit of the public is worked out.

How this affects Hawaiian sugarcane may be very readily seen. Sugarcane are sold on arrival at the New York quotation at the time of arrival. Three hundred thousand tons or thereabouts have been sent from here to the Atlantic seaboard this year. If quotations have been kept down by buying in Cuba instead of in New York, a considerable portion of the whole supply has thus been bought at prices lower than the factors of the market justified holders in expecting.

The lower range of quotations for sugar thus has been universally expected is a subject of discussion throughout the current literature of the trade. Smith & Schipper devote considerable space in their sugar postings to a discussion of this subject. In their latest to be received here they say:

"As we have previously pointed out, refiners are trying to accumulate supplies gradually without unduly exciting the market, and in their efforts to do this they withdraw entirely from the market, until the sagging tendency of values has reached the resisting point, and then step in and purchase what sugar is offering, after which sellers' ideas for additional supplies immediately advance, and the same process is gone through again. It is estimated that to have anything like a normal working stock on hand at the middle of September, refiners will have to purchase at least 150,000 tons of sugar for the four Atlantic ports. PROMINENT JAPANESE AND GEISHAS IN A RAID

The raid made upon an alleged "blind pig" on Saturday night by License Inspector Fennell, assisted by Chief Kalakela and his forces from the police department, resulted in the rounding up of many of the leading professional and business men of the local Japanese community, the seizure of a large quantity of forbidden juice and a great scurrying around among the geisha girls. The raiders interfered with the current of gaiety of several banquets, stilled the joyful tum-tuning of the samisens and stopped for the time being the merry circling of the flowing bowl.

The premises raided were the Peabody houses at the corner of Vineyard and River streets, occupied by Sounouchi. Here a Japanese tea-house had been established, where it is the custom of the men of prominence of Japantown to hold their Saturday night and Sunday banquets, entertaining their friends in the regulation Japanese way with geisha girls to dance and sing. Here, also, are held quite frequently, banquets at which the hosts are sometimes haole, while quite as frequently there are haole guests about the festive board.

For many months the suspicions of the License Inspector have been directed against this place as a dispensary of hard drinks and on Saturday, when there was a sound of revelry by night, it was decided to raid. There were eight in all in the raiding party and the descent of the police came like a bolt from the blue on Sounouchi and his guests. The raiders made no arrests, contenting themselves with searching the premises, seizing about a hundred bottles of beer, sake and whiskey for evidence and taking down the names of those present as witnesses. Today a formal complaint will be sworn out against the proprietor, while it is probable that there will be a bunch of Federal Grand Jury summonses issue for doctors, editors, merchants and attorney's clerks and for the geisha girls of the Japanese community.

The raiders spent about two hours searching the premises and taking down names. Beneath the house they found a couple of hundred dead soldiers, while there was evidence that there was no drought and that tea was not the only drinkable served. A second raid was made later on on another tea-house at 69 School street, but there was no intoxicating liquor located, it being supposed that a forewarning had been received of the doing at Sounouchi's. Beneath the house a large pile of empties were located, some of them with the foam of the suds still clinging to the necks. No arrests were made here either.

STEVEDORE HAD NARROW ESCAPE

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)

A young Hawaiian stevedore was taken from the S. S. Alaskan to the office of Dr. Cooper for treatment yesterday afternoon, having fallen down the hatchway of the big freighter and being rendered unconscious by the jolt he received when he struck the cross beams twenty feet below. He was replacing the hatch when in some way this turned, throwing him into the hold. The fall, had he gone clear into the hold, would undoubtedly have killed him, and, indeed, those who saw him fall hurried into the hold expecting to find his lifeless body. They found nothing at all at first, the stevedore having struck some beams above and these far above the heads of those who had hurried to his assistance. At Dr. Cooper's office, where he was taken in the police wagon, it was found that he had escaped with some severe bruises.

WHAT KILAUEA SUGGESTS.

The Keolos will come to Hilo and an endeavor should be made to have the Santa Clara come along too. They can find good bull at this end of the line and then they can take in one of the wonders of the world—the Volcano. "See Paris and die" is an old saw but ours is: See Kilauea and live. Few will want to die after seeing it. It is too suggestive.—A Setta.

KAUAI BOOKKEEPER UP FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Ed. McCarriston, assistant bookkeeper and cashier of the Maize Sugar Co., was arrested last Wednesday on a charge of embezzlement of $200 during the month of June. As the case has not come before the court yet nothing definite as to the particulars of the case is so far at hand. There has, however, been a great deal of discussion of the matter and curiosity is expressed as to the outcome of the case. It appears that no less than three men in the employ of the company are handling the cash and that every one of them has access to the books. The latter have been falsified as shown by erased footings, the perpetrator having raised the footing by just so much cash as he abstracted at the time, being careful to boost the debit side in a similar manner so as to have the balance come out correctly. It is claimed that this get-rich-quick system has been practised in Kauai for sixteen months and that the lack of an auditor alone can explain the fact such an open falsification has escaped detection long ago. There seems to be a good chance for an interesting trial and lawyers on both sides are busy digging up the facts in the case as far as these are discoverable.—Garden Island.
